Dear Mr. Nichols,

Re: Revoked Licence #103717 Lots 10, 11 & 12, Concession 12, Walpole Township, County of Haldimand

We wish to respond to your letter of February 4th last.

After having reviewed the various court and OMB decisions referred to in your letter, together with other court decisions, we are confident in our position, that the revocation of your license has now been completely and finally adjudicated by the courts and tribunals.

Accordingly, we reiterate our position as set in our letter January 20th last, that we will be initiating steps to inspect the property in the spring of 2015.

Your letter implies that you will respond to our actions, by initiating civil and criminal proceedings. Please be advised that pursuant to the order of Mdm. Justice Milanetti dated May 20, 2010, you are prevented from initiating any such court procedures without obtaining Court approval or the consent of the Atty. Gen.

However, we are prepared to issue our own application for a court injunction, requesting the court to permit our access to the property, free of any interference from you.

In view of your past conduct on recent occasions, such an order is necessary for the safety of our personnel.

Please advise the writer as to whether you are in agreement to allow us, to access the property in accordance with the Aggregate Resources Act, sect.6.1(5), or in the alternative whether it will be necessary to make application for an injunction or mandatory order and other relief as required .

Yours truly,

Bruce Semkowski
